NO. 27

AN EXPLANATION OF PRIMARY LAW

Att'y Gen. Garnett Gives
Out Statement

ON OPINION OF THE COURT

Of Appeals Which Clears Up
An Apparent Misunderstanding.

THE MATTER IS MADE PLAIN

Frankfort, Ky., June 28.—Realizing from the questions received by him from all parts of the State that there is considerable misunderstanding over the opinion of the Court of Appeals regarding the State primary law, Attorney General Garnett has issued the following statement specifying the directions of the court:

"The impression seems to be abroad that the Court of Appeals, in the opinion handed down last Friday, refused to pass upon the primary election law, because Section 27 of the primary election law provides that there shall be no appeal from an order of the Circuit or County Judges, correcting any error, wrong or neglect with reference to placing the name of the candidates upon the primary ballot.

"There were two cases appealed from the Johnson Circuit Court, which were consolidated and heard together by the Court of Appeals, and four cases appealed from the Jefferson Circuit Court, which were consolidated and heard together by the Court of Appeals.

"In all of these cases similar questions were involved. In one of the cases which was appealed from the Johnson Circuit Court, E. W. Robinson had offered to file his petition with the County Clerk, requesting that his name be placed upon the ballot as a Republican candidate for assessor. The petition failed to state with what party Mr. Robinson affiliated at the last regular election, and for this reason the clerk refused to file the petition.

"Mr. Robinson filed suit in the Circuit Court asking that a mandamus be awarded, requiring the clerk to place his name on the Republican ballot.

"At the same time Mr. Robinson filed his suit three of the voters who had signed his petition, for and on behalf of all the signers of the petition, instituted suit in the Circuit Court asking that a mandamus be issued against the clerk requiring the clerk to place the name of Mr. Robinson on the Republican ballot.

"The Circuit Court, in each case, awarded the mandamus, requiring the clerk to place the name of Robinson upon the ballot. The clerk appealed in both cases to the Court of Appeals and the Court of Appeals dismissed the appeal in the case instituted by the candidate, because Section 27 of the primary election law provides that there shall be no appeal. But in the case instituted by the voters, wherein the same questions were involved in the case instituted by Mr. Robinson, the Court of Appeals had jurisdiction because their personal rights were involved, and this action was instituted under the provisions of Section 474 of the civil code. In this case, the Court of Appeals held that the primary election law was not unconstitutional, and that the regulations contained therein were not unreasonable.

"The opinion of the Court of appeals in one of the cases is, in part, as follows:

"First—The candidate, at the time he files his petition to become a candidate, must be a qualified elector.

"Second—The candidate, at the time he files his petition, must be a member of a political party.

"Third—He must have heretofore affiliated with that party of which he is a member at the time of filing his petition.

"Fourth—He must have supported the nominees of that party at the last regular election.

"Fifth—The qualified elector who seeks the nomination of any party must be a qualified elector of that party and no other.

"Anyone who measures up to these qualifications, and who complies with the formalities prescribed, is entitled to have his name printed upon the official nominating ballot of his party as a candidate for nomination at a primary election."

"The Court further says:

"The tests to which the candidates are subjected by the primary law of this State are contained in Section 6 of the act. One of them is that he must have affiliated with the party whose nomination he seeks, also have supported its nominees at the last regular election. The words, 'supported its nominees,' do not necessarily mean that the candidate should have voted for such nominees. Without voting at all, he may have given them his actual, and even active, support, by advocating their claims, contributing to the legitimate expenses of their campaign, getting out the votes and any other proper ways. Therefore, to require one to say that he supported the nominees of his party at the former election would not necessarily compel the admission on his part that he voted for them. For this reason, if no other were apparent, it cannot be said that the test, when imposed, invaded the secrecy of the ballot."

Attorney General Garnett says that by Sections 6 and 19 of the primary election law the right of an elector to vote at a primary is made to depend upon his political alliance with the party for whose candidate he desires to cast a ballot, and the court in its opinion, quoting from State vs. Drexel, 74 Neb, 776, said:

"An indiscriminate right to vote at a primary would tend, in many instances, to thwart the purpose of the organization and destroy the party. A hindrance to one not a member of a party from participating in the election of the party's delegates and candidates can in no proper sense be said to interfere with the free exercise of the elective franchise as guaranteed by the Constitution. All that is required is that the party offering to vote at the primary, in order to be entitled to vote with either of the parties engaged in nominating candidates thereat, shall have affiliated with such party, supported its candidates generally at the last election and intends to do so at the next. Open declaration of allegiance to party is absolutely essential to the proper workings of the primary election law."

Under these opinions no one can become a candidate for the nomination at the hands of either of the three political parties unless he is a qualified elector of the party from which he seeks the nomination; and a qualified elector is one who supported his party's candidates at the last regular election.

MANY SOLDIERS TO BE AT STATE ENCAMPMENT

Middlesboro, Ky., June 28.—Maj. Thomas W. Woodard has been here all week making arrangements for the Kentucky National Guard meet, which is to be held here July 18-23. Arrangements are being made to take care of 1,900 soldiers, which will be the largest crowd ever entertained in Middlesboro.

One of the most important features will be a sham battle in the historic Cumberland Gap on the old Boone trail and which was occupied by the Confederates and the Federals during the Civil War. Cumberland Gap is noted from the fact that it is one of the main passways from the North to the South and was taken and retaken by both sides during the Civil War.

The following officers of the United States army will instruct the Kentucky State militia at the encampment at Middlesboro next month: Capt. E. L. D. Breckenridge at brigade headquarters; Capt. Charles E. Doerr, of Ft. Thomas, medical department; Lieut. Phillip H. Bagby, Kentucky Military Institute, First Regiment; Lieut. James G. Taylor, West Point, Second Regiment; Lieut. John F. Curry, West Point, Third Regiment.

COMPLETELY CONTROLS
THE PRICE OF TOBACCO

Washington, June 28.—The Imperial Tobacco company, known as the British trust, absolutely controls the price of tobacco in the Henderson, Ky., belt, according to testimony before the congressional tobacco commission to-day by William Elliott, a Henderson banker and the president of the Stemming Tobacco Association of Kentucky.

TO THE VOTERS OF OHIO COUNTY:

Having been earnestly solicited by numerous Democrats to become a candidate for the office of County Attorney, I have concluded to accede to your request and will say that if nominated, I will make a vigorous canvass and do all I can for the success of the Democratic party.

MEXICO IS AGAIN GOING BROKE FOR BIG AMOUNT

Cash Going Fast—Less Than $15,000,000 Now Left For Army Expenses.

Mexico City, June 30.—The expenditure of the money borrowed by Mexico in the latter part of May, about two hundred million pesos is not going to be at all difficult. According to reliable information something like $56,000,000 gold already has been disbursed, and there remains on hand not more than $24,000,000 gold. The loan was placed at 90, and a commission of at least 2 per cent. was paid, leaving the total amount actually available not more than $20,000,000 gold. The $56,000,000 already paid out is accounted for roughly by $21,000,000 returned to New York bankers in the shape of bonds and $35,000,000 to the National Bank for the payment of accounts in Paris and London and other pressing claims. Of the remaining $24,000,000 the Government has promised to pay $7,000,000 for port improvements at Salina Cruz, Vera Cruz, Tampico and Frontera, and other items listed account for a few millions more, leaving available for the war fund probably not more than $15,000,000 gold.

An unofficial estimate of the cost of the general conduct of the war, including the army in the field, is $7,500,000 a month, providing, of course, that all bills are liquidated. In addition to this borrowed money the Government has its ordinary income, but this has been materially reduced because of a diminution in the totals of imports upon which duties are collected and a reduction in the sale of stamps for the conduct of general business. The stamp tax brings money to the treasury in proportion to the volume of business, and business is light.

Given these conditions, there is speculation in Mexico City to-day as to how long President Huerta's financial resources will hold out, and the general opinion is that they will last between three and four months.

GEN. MAY ELECTROCUTED
AT EDDYVILLE PRISON

Eddyville, Ky., June 27.—General May, the Clay county murderer, was electrocuted in the penitentiary here this morning at 3:50 o'clock for the killing of Sherman Meridith's wife. May had also been convicted of the killing of Meridith and was charged with more than half a dozen other murders in Eastern Kentucky.

The electrocution occurred without a hitch and May was pronounced dead in one minute after the current had been turned on.

The doomed man was taken from his cell at 3:46 o'clock this morning, after a good night's sleep and after eating a hearty breakfast. He was accompanied to the chair by Capt. James Black and Chaplain Holden and did not appear in the least worried, taking his seat in the death chair without assistance. The twenty-two hundred volts were turned on promptly at 3:50 and sixty seconds later Dr. F. M. Travis and Dr. D. J. Travis, the attending physicians, pronounced life extinct. May's body was embalmed and sent to his home in Eastern Kentucky. Before he died May professed religion and declared he was sorry for all his crimes.

ARRANGING TO PAY THE CONFEDERATE PENSIONS

Frankfort, Ky., June 28.—Capt. W. J. Stone, Confederate Pension Agent, is sending out notices that February pension claims will be paid as soon as the Auditor's office can arrange its books and receive the warrants. May and August claims will be paid on vouchers August 5. It is probable that it will require a special clerk in the Auditor's office to attend to these claims, as the number of warrants to be issued will exceed the number for all other purposes.

FORTY HORSES BURNED IN TATTERSALL BARN

At Lexington, Ky.—Highly Bred Saddle Horses and Trotters Incinerated.

Lexington, Ky., June 29.—The mammoth Tattersall horse sales and training barn, in South Broadway, opposite the entrance to the trotting track, was burned to the ground this afternoon. Forty horses perished in the flames, and Trainer Hunter C. Moody, Trainer W. T. Griffy, who was also superintendent of the barn, and Ed Howard, a negro employee of Trainer R. E. Moreland, were painfully burned while trying to save the horses. There were about seventy horses in the barn, and practically all of them were driven out before the fire reached them, but about half of them, crazed by terror, rushed back into the flames.

All of the other buildings surrounding the barn, and which comprised a veritable village of stables and boarding houses, were protected by the efforts of the city fire department from being ignited, except the boarding house conducted by Mrs. A. D. Hadden, which was burned to the ground.

The total loss from the fire is roughly estimated at about $40,000. The barn, which cost $18,000, was owned by the firm of Harrison, Jewell & Patterson, as were a large number of the horses, most of the vehicles, harness and similar paraphernalia, and a large quantity of feed, all of which was destroyed.

Many of the horses burned were matinee trotters, saddle horses and show ring performers, some of which belonged to wealthy financiers in other cities, who had sent them here to be trained. It is not yet positively known all of the horses which were destroyed, as most of those which were saved were turned loose, and in the excitement became scattered through the city and surrounding country. Mat Cohen had several head in the barn, some of which belonged to Mrs. R. T. Lowndes, of Danville, and other horse show exhibitors. R. F. Moreland, also had a number of valuable animals in the building.

WITNESS CLAIMS HELD UP BY STATE AUDITOR

Frankfort, Ky., June 27.—G. C. Bailey, Deputy Sheriff and brother-in-law of the Sheriff of Bell county, was in consultation to-day with State Inspector and Examiner Sherman Goodpastor and Assistant State Auditor G. B. Likens, in regard to a report being prepared by Inspector Goodpastor after an inspection of Bell county offices. The State Auditor has held up witness claims aggregating $1,500, which has been assigned to Deputy Sheriff Bailey. Mr. Likens said the law prohibits the Sheriff and his deputies from speculating in fees. Deputy Bailey said that he had purchased these claims for a woman in Philadelphia as an accommodation, but they were not transferred in her name.

THE KENTUCKIANS IN OKLAHOMA TO ORGANIZE

Oklahoma City, Okla., June 30.—Kentuckians in Oklahoma will meet in this city July 12 to organize the State Federation of Kentucky Clubs. The call for the meeting has been sent out by the officials of the Oklahoma City Kentucky Club to the 43,000 expatriate Kentuckians now living in the "Sooner" State.

The call, which is signed by J. R. Keaton, formerly of Grayson, Ky., president of the local club; Mrs. E. G. Bradford, formerly of Paris, vice president; Scott Thompson, formerly of Lexington, treasurer, and M. Cornelia, formerly of Russellville, secretary, outlines the work hoped to be done by a State federation. It is planned to build a Kentucky home on the State Fair grounds at Oklahoma City, with logs imported from Kentucky. The building is to house at least 1,000 persons. Besides this the idea of the federation is to keep alive in the hearts and minds of the Kentucky-Oklahomans their interest in their native State.

In the same letter with the call for the organization of the federation is a request for the names of all Kentuckians in the State, that the Kentucky-Oklahoma directory may be revised for this year.

GOODPASTOR'S CRITICISM
UPHELD BY COMMITTEE

Frankfort, Ky., June 28.—A committee composed of Attorney General Garnett and Auditor Bosworth, appointed by the Sinking Fund Commission to investigate State Inspector and Examiner Goodpastor's criticism of the Eastern Kentucky Normal school and the reply of the Board of Regents, reported to-day to the Commission. In regard to the expenditure of the $18,000 for a farm, Goodpastor's criticism is held to be "well founded." In this connection the committee quotes the statute touching the expenditures in excess of those debts for which the Legislature has made appropriations and recites violations are liable for a fine or imprisonment or both.

BASEBALL GAME ENDS
IN FEARFUL TRAGEDY

Shepherdsville, Ky., June 30.—Herman Deacon struck Robert Nell with a baseball bat when a difficulty arose at a baseball game at Fancy, this county, Saturday evening. Nell died Sunday night at 10 o'clock from the effects of the blow.

Nell is a prominent farmer living near here and is a widower with one daughter. Deacon lives just across the line in Nelson county and is a young man about twenty-one years of age.

Dr. Irving Abel, of Louisville, was called Saturday night and operated on Mr. Nell for a fractured skull, but he never regained consciousness. The warrant for the arrest of Deacon has been issued, but he had not been arrested this morning.

Notice.

Notice is hereby given that there will be a meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association of Hartford, Ky., at 5 o'clock, Thursday, July 3, 1913, for the purpose of making some disposition of the building belonging to the local association by sale or otherwise as seems best. There has been an offer made to purchase the building at a fair price and the matter of its sale will be determined at the meeting called. All members are earnestly requested to be present. This July 1, 1913.

E. W. FORD, President.

Paralyzed by Lightning.

Danville, Ky., June 26.—Robert Claunch, of near Rose Hill, in the west end of Mercer county and a son of Mrs. Margaret Claunch, of place, was struck by lightning Tuesday afternoon and is at present in a serious condition, one side being paralyzed. Mr. Claunch was sitting at the window of his home while the storm was raging when a bolt of lightning crashed through the wall, reducing that side of the house to splinters and rendering him unconscious. His wife, who was also in the room, was knocked down and stunned for a few minutes. The doctors say Mr. Claunch may recover.

"What's in a Name?"

Columbus, Ohio, June 27.—Woodrow Wilson was sent to the workhouse by Police Judge Osborn to-day to serve a sentence of 30 days for vagrancy.

While claiming Washington as his home, Wilson did not claim relationship to the President.

He gave his occupation as that of skin finisher, but failed to show anything like regular employment. A policeman found him asleep near a railroad track, where he had spent last night.

Adolphus Busch III, of St. Louis, aged 22, has just married a grass widow 31 years old with three in-cumbrances.

Baby Badly Burned.

Owensboro, Ky., June 28.—The six-months-old baby of Mr. and Mrs. John Hodges, of near Handyville, was seriously burned as the result of a childish prank. The baby was resting in its buggy when a seven-year-old boy visited struck a match and set the mosquito bar over the carriage afire. The screams of the baby brought its father, who put out the flames, but not before the child was painfully burned.

AT HARLAKENDEN FOR SUMMER

Social Events Postponed Until Housekeeping Is Well Under Way.

SECRET SERVICE MEN ON HAND

Cornish, N. H., June 28.—Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, wife of President Wilson, arrived here to-day with her daughter, Eleanor, 41 trunks, 5 automobiles and a train of 35 servants, besides Secret Service men. But Cornish folks mustn't call on Mrs. Wilson till she gets her housekeeping straightened out. President Wilson says so.

S. A. Reed, of the Windsor (Vt.) Board of Trade, was at the station to-day to meet Mrs. Wilson. Three hundred Windsor girls and women were there, too, in their best bibs and tuckers. They were awed into silence for the brief moments while Secret Service men were hurrying Mrs. Wilson and Miss Eleanor into the automobile that carried them to Harlakenden.

But the minute the auto had shot away they clustered around President Reed and wanted to know all the details about giving the distinguished guests a reception, &c.

Mr. Reed read a note to the crowd that he had received from Secretary Tumulty, which said:

"For a few days after her arrival Mrs. Wilson will be so busy getting her household in order that I wonder if it wouldn't be possible to postpone any social events till later."

The crowd was disappointed, but accepted the condition.

There were eight automobiles in the procession that took Mrs. Wilson to Winston Churchill's home—where she will spend the summer. She, Miss Eleanor and Miss Bomes, her secretary, with the chauffeur and the footman, were in the first machine. Behind came Secret Service men, motion-picture men, photographers, reporters and servants.

It is four miles from the Windsor station to the great stone gates that mark the entrance to Harlakenden. The line of autos made the run in less than 15 minutes.

The Wilson special car had been attached to a train which arrived at 1:12—five minutes late. At exactly 1:31 the auto with Mrs. Wilson and her daughter swept through the stone arch and into the Churchill estate.

A housekeeper, seven servants, four butlers and a head chauffeur were there to welcome them. The Secret Service men barred all reporters and photographers at the gates, a quarter of a mile from the house.

PARCELS POST STAMPS
ARE VALID ON ALL MAIL

Washington, June 28.—Parcel post stamps will be valid on all classes of mail on and after July 1 and ordinary stamps, including commemorative issues, will be good for postage on parcel post packages, under an order issued by Postmaster General Burleson.

As the distinctive parcel post stamps could heretofore be used only on one class of mail matter, much annoyance was caused the public. Mr. Burleson explained that this stamp was designed for use temporarily only, to determine the amount of revenue derived from the parcel post. This has now been ascertained, he said, and the department believes that the public should not be caused further inconvenience.

STURGIS LAD VICTIM OF PECULIAR ACCIDENT

Sturgis, Ky., June 28.—Kicked in the head by a mule, William Lucas, aged 16, son of Thomas Lucas, was instantly killed while at work on the farm of Will Holt, near here. The youth was driving a mule to a hay baler and when the mule took a spurt, the lad was thrown beneath its hoofs. The boy's head was split open by several kicks.

THE GREAT NEED OF DEVELOPMENT

In Kentucky Along Agricultural Lines.

ONE PLAN PROMISES SUCCESS

That Is State Aid, Equalizing the Effort in Every Direction.

THE MEANING OF GOOD ROADS

"Towns in the last census period gained three inhabitants for every one that rural districts gained; but all those living in incorporated places of less than 2,500 inhabitants are classified by the census as rural population. The gain in population, broadly speaking, was confined to towns of more than 2,500 inhabitants; and a table prepared by the National Federation of Retail Merchants shows more than 6,000 country towns, in eight States, that actually lost population in the ten years. This table includes 156 county seats in Missouri, Iowa, Indiana, Michigan and Illinois, out of a total of 490 county seats in those States.

This rather extensive stagnation of decay in country-town population in the great agricultural region approximately bounded by the Missouri, Ohio and Hudson rivers is described by a correspondent, as appalling. It certainly indicates that the country town should take stock of itself.

"Several months ago an investigation of the same phenomena within a relatively restricted area led to a strong presumption of an intimate relationship between good roads and country-town population—those towns that enjoyed the advantage of improved highways tending to hold their own or to gain, and those under the disadvantage of bad roads tending to lose. For a country town that depends upon rural trade, this is the very first point to be considered."

—[Saturday Evening Post.]

Fully 80 per cent. of the towns in Kentucky are "country towns." Since there are more than 60 counties having none but dirt roads, impassable for the greater part of the winter months, it may safely be assumed that the towns in those counties at least are fortunate if they have succeeded in holding their own in population.

Furthermore, Kentucky itself is a rural State, having but one city of the first class and not more than half a dozen of the second class. Two-thirds of its counties are poorer, that is, they receive more from the State for their support than they pay to the State for its support. It is plain to the wayfarer, man, or at least it should be plain, that Kentucky will continue to be a State where good roads are the widely scattered exception, if county bond issues or local taxation is to be depended on to raise the necessary funds. That plan has been tried out for something over a century and more than half the counties are without good roads.

The one plan that promises success is State aid, under which the wealthier counties in Kentucky and corporations doing business in the State will be made to contribute the major portion of the fund devoted by the State to road building purposes. The strongest objection that can be urged to this plan is that the State is in debt. But the most effective method yet devised by which a State or an individual can get out of debt is by an increase of revenues.

That good roads mean increased farm values, larger net prices for farm products and a saving in farm labor, whether of man or beast, is a fact too invariably proved to be fact, to be questioned. It's about time that Kentucky was giving it recognition. And no better time will be presented than the next session of the General Assembly.

AN "OLD REB" UNIQUE CAMPAIGN FOR CLERK

One of the most unique campaigns being made by any candidate for public office in the State is that of John A. Murray, "Old Reb," of Glasgow, present County Clerk of Barren county, who is a candidate for re-election and the Democratic nomination at the August primary. An old Confederate soldier, known to every man, woman and child in Barren county, he has published a list of appointments for "entertainments," at which he states "J. A. Murray, 'Old Reb,' invites his friends, big and little, to meet him," and adds: "Good music, stories of soldier life and a treat and balcony for the children." These "entertainments" given at district school houses have made a big hit. It is said, "Old Reb's" campaign cards contain a picture of himself in the uniform of a Confederate soldier.

BOURBON BUNCOMBE IN REGARD TO LOBBYING

Two or three standpat Senators have "almost accused" the President of lobbying in favor of "his" tariff bill. The same bourbons are charging Wilson with dictation and usurpation and threatening to have a lot to say "at the proper time" about his tyrannical interference with the legislative branch.

The "proper" time will never come. The average citizen would advise the Senators in question to cut it all out, once and for all. The stuff is old, cheap and thin. There is no political capital to be squeezed out of it.

President Wilson is within his rights and duty in discussing tariff rates and expressing opinion. He was elected to do this among other things. He has the veto power, and is to the extent of that power a legislator. Moreover, the Presidency is the people's office par excellence, as even Cleveland realized. The nation expects the executive to lead and use his influence on the side of right and justice. They know that a President doesn't have to lobby, to bully or to dictate, and that no fit President will resort to coarse and illegal tactics.

That Mr. Wilson has taken a definite position on some tariff items, and that he has discussed and given his views, on invitation, on other items is perfectly well known. No one but a standpatter too blind to see what is going on in politics can object, or pretend to object, to such "interference." We report, there's nothing left in the buncome about Presidential lobbying and usurpation. Cut it out and talk sense, Messrs. Bourbon Survivors.—[Chicago Record-Herald.]

PANAMA CANAL SIMPLY BIG BRIDGE OF WATER

Joseph Bucklin Bishop, secretary of the Canal Commission, in the July Scribner, says:

"What the engineers of the United States Government are constructing at Panama is not a canal through the Isthmus but a bridge of water across and above it. The so-called canal is a huge water-bridge, the first in the world's history. It is about 34 miles in length, 87 feet high, with a channel of water through its center varying in depth from 45 to 87 feet and in width at the bottom from 300 to 1,000 feet. The bridge is divided into two sections, Gatun lake and Culebra cut, the latter being an arm of the former. Access to the bridge by vessels will be by means of water elevators, six in duplicate at either end, each 1,000 feet long, 110 feet wide, and with a combined lift of 87 feet.

First Printing Press.

The first printing press in the eastern settlement of America was set up in 1638. In the summer of that year a ship bearing a printing press, a printer and three pressmen arrived on the shores of New England, the printer being Stephen Daye. In the same year the press was set up at Cambridge. One of the earliest and perhaps the most celebrated of the issues was "The Bay Psalm Book." It is interesting to know that the actual press is still preserved. After various wanderings in Boston, Connecticut, New Hampshire and Vermont, it was found in Windsor county and presented to the Vermont Historical Society.

STATE LAW AS TO THE PRIMARY

To Be Held In Kentucky Saturday, Aug. 2.

CANDIDATES' QUALIFICATIONS

Are Plainly Explained, Also Those of the Voters Who Will Take Part.

THE MEANING OF PETITIONS

Primary elections in Kentucky will be held on the first Saturday in August, between 6 a. m. and 4 p. m.

All political parties who cast at least twenty per cent. of the vote at last preceding election for President must nominate their candidates at this primary.

The candidate must file a petition stating his name, age, post-office address, political affiliation and the other legal qualifications of the candidate for the particular office.

The nominating petition of the candidate must state his name and residence, office for which he is to be nominated and the date of the primary.

All such petitions must be filed with the County Clerk at least thirty days before the primary, except when the office is for more than one county, in which case the petition must be filed at least forty days before the primary. It cannot be circulated prior to sixty days before the date when it is required to be filed.

Voters can sign only one petition for each office, except where more than one office of the same kind are to be filled at the same election. The signer must declare that he intends to support the candidate named in the petition, must sign his own name, residence and street number and date of signing. No signature shall be counted unless it has been signed and bears date within sixty days prior to the time for filing.

All signers of each separate sheet must live in the same precinct. The signers must be qualified voters and members of a party making its nominations at the primary and with which they are registered and must be registered voters, if they live in a precinct where registration is required.

For offices of one county or a portion thereof, the nomination paper shall be signed by at least ten per cent. and not more than ten per cent. of the total vote (at last preceding Presidential election) of the party of the candidate in the city, county or district in which he is to be elected; if more than one county and less than the entire State, not less than two per cent. and not more than ten per cent. in each of at least one-half the counties; if in the entire State, not less than two per cent. and not more than ten per cent. in each of at least ten counties in the State.

The order in which the names are to be placed on the ballot shall be determined at a public drawing in the County Clerk's office twenty-five days before the primary election, at 2 p. m.

Separate ballot boxes shall be supplied for each party, but a ballot shall not be disqualified if placed in wrong ballot box.

The same qualification of voters shall apply in primary elections under this law as are required in regular elections. Said qualifications shall be determined as of the date of the primary without regard to the qualifications as they exist at the succeeding regular election.

Each voter can only vote the ballot of that party with which he is affiliated.

A special registration for those who were unable to register for the last regular election is held at the County Clerk's office fourteen days before the primary and at the same time and place transfers from one precinct to another can be obtained. No registration or transfers are permitted on the day of the primary.

Primary election officers are appointed by the regular election commissioners, but by uniting, candidates have the privilege of designating a proportion of such officers.

Each party is entitled to two challengers and two inspectors appointed by the election commissioners. Candidates have the same privilege of appointing these officers as with the other officers.

Primary returns are made to the County Clerk.

All expenses of primary are paid by the State.

Nomination papers shall not be circulated prior to sixty days before the date by which such paper is required to be filed, and no signature shall be counted unless it has been signed to such nomination paper and bears date within sixty days prior to the time for filing.

THE RIGHT TO LOBBY SHOULD BE SAFEGUARDED

Bryan's Commoner says:

No one questions the right of any man or interest to be heard by Congressional or legislative committees with respect to legislation that might affect a particular business. To deny such a privilege would be to reject the right of petition and that right must in popular government be preserved. There are, too, some who think that it is not improper for the lobbyist to discuss these matters with legislators as individuals. On this point there will be marked difference of opinion. It will be agreed, however, that the safer course for the best interests of all concerned would be for the representative of special interest to confine his efforts at pleas before regularly constituted committees sitting in public hearing. The legislator must be given all the arguments pro and con upon every proposition with which he is to deal. But every individual right may be preserved when these arguments are presented in a public way. In this view the time may come when representatives of special interests will be denied the privilege of making their arguments to legislators as individuals and required to make their pleas to regularly organized committees holding public sessions. In the meantime, however, it will be agreed that the occupation of every man who represents special interests in the matter of legislation at the national capital should be known to the public. Some of these lobbyists have been uncovered in the investigations set on foot by the President. Congressional investigation ought not, however, to be necessary for this purpose. There should be a law requiring every lobbyist or agent of special interests to formally register at the national capital just as these gentlemen are required to register at many of the State capitals. The public interest is entitled to every safeguard.

MEETING OF THE GREEN RIVER DISTRICT UNION

Calhoun, Ky., June 18, 1913.

The Green River District Union A. S. of E. will meet in regular quarterly convention in Hartford, Ohio county, on Thursday, July 3d, at ten o'clock. All local unions in the District are to be represented in this meeting, and we call attention to the fact that all members of County Executive Boards, together with the members of the District Board, are members of this Convention and should be present. Let all representatives come prepared to give reports as to amount of tobacco set out in your respective counties. Also we request that each county report progress that is being made in pooling tobacco. This will be an important meeting and Ohio county is making preparation to see you there, so again we insist on your presence.

Respectfully,
T. H. BALMAIN, Dist. Pres.
S. B. ROBERTSON, Sec'y.

Obeys That Impulse!

Instead of enduring the daily torment of weak back, backache, sore kidneys, swollen joints and rheumatism, obey that impulse to take Foley Kidney Pills. The co-operation with nature, which accounts for their success in all kidney and bladder disorders. They are healing, strengthening and tonic. Charles N. Fox, Himrod, N. Y., after doctoring for years with no relief says: "I commenced using Foley Kidney Pills and I am now entirely cured." Obey that impulse to-day and give them a chance to help you. For sale by all dealers. (Advertisement.)

Underserving.

Three Germans were engaged in a confidential talk while dining together in a Broadway cafe a few days ago.

Their conversation drifted from politics to the second marriage of a mutual friend, when one of them remarked:

"I'll tell you what. A man what marries de second time don't deserve to have lost his first wife."

COUNTRY CORRESPONDENT

WRITES UP OWN WEDDING

Says It's the First Time He

Ever Wrote One Up

Truthfully.

(Pittsburg Dispatch)

Franklin, Pa.—Describing himself as a hayseed and a writer of lies about his neighbors, Oliver C. Sigworth, one of Venango county's best-known farmers and a country correspondent for forty years, wrote his own wedding notice the other day and sent it to the newspapers. It is as follows:

"The bride is as fine as silk and is a good cook, though as to this the groom reserves the right to amend his petition later. She is fat, fair and 40, weighs 170, dressed, and has lived all her life in Oil City. 'She' is a member of the Evangelical Church, but I cannot say much as to her standing. The truth of the matter is she took me to church with her, due probably to the fact that she was ashamed of me. I am not aware that she has ever figured much in social events and she is not a member of the Four Hundred. Nor do her records show that she was ever arrested for drunkenness and disorderly conduct. She is just a plain, average woman who always tried to make her home the pleasantest place in the world for her family and friends. She has a nice home in Oil City, and her friends think she is foolish for going out on a farm, where she will probably have to chop wood. Wisely, however, she leaves her home furnished, and if chopping wood and feeding the calves become too strenuous, she can return to her own home.

"The bridegroom is an old hayseed and has been writing for newspapers for forty years. He is a charter member of the Correspondents' Club and did not go outside the club for a wife until all the old maids of the club had turned him down. He has written the biggest snake and nature-fake stories published in the State and is the author of more lies about his neighbors than any other man in the country. He is sawed off in height, squinteyed, baldheaded and bow-legged. Although aged he is not entirely senile. He owns a poor farm, fifteen bony cows, a dozen scrubby swine, six dogs, a dozen cats and a lot of other trash too numerous to mention.

"In closing, I desire to say that this is the first time in my forty years' experience I ever told the truth in writing an account of a wedding."

The Difference Between "The Summer Girl" and "The Summer Woman."

While the former is having a "good time" the latter is too often dragging around, nervous, run down, tired out, with aching back weary limbs, sleepless and wretched. Often it is kidney trouble, not female trouble, and Foley Kidney Pills are a direct and positive help for the condition. Mrs. M. J. Strickland, Mt. Willing, Ala., writes: "Please send me another bottle of Foley Kidney Pills. They do me all the good. I can not sleep at night without them." For sale all dealers. (Advertisement.)

No Water For Four Years.

Charles R. Reickhoff, of this place, has not touched water for four years. Neither has he taken liquor or any liquid save that secured by absorbing the juice of fruits. Some years ago Mr. Reickhoff, who is the son of a millionaire living at Orange City, Iowa, determined to try a health cure of his own invention. He has lived in the open air every possible moment, drunk nothing and ate nothing but nuts and fresh fruit. He says he is in perfect health.—[Hemet (Cal.) Cor. New York World.]

RADIUM AND ITS IMMENSE VALUE

We Produce Most of the World's Product.

PRICE $2,250,000 AN OUNCE

Europe Gets All Our Valuable Ore, While Our Country Suffers.

IS SMELTED AND SENT BACK

The applications of radium in the domain of medicine and the possibilities of its ultimate efficiency in the treatment of disease are still too little understood to permit of any generalizations or unchallenged statements in respect to radiotherapy. The readiness with which the quack and nostrum faker have adopted the unproved virtues of radio-activity in the prosecution of their lucrative nefarious practices is familiar to all. Despite this misuse of the newer contributions of chemistry it must be admitted that radium, with its unknown possibilities, as well as its marvelous properties, has entered into both medical thinking and doing in a way that cannot be overlooked. The alleged potency of the element is only exceeded by its actual price.

Radium institutes have been established in Austria, France, Germany and England, yet few persons are cognizant of the fact that the United States has radium-producing deposits within her borders and has taken the palm from Austria as the radium-producing country of the world. The experts of the Bureau of Mines have lately revealed a situation in respect to this unusually valuable element which leads to the rather surprising conclusion that while all the radium placed on the market in the last few years has been produced in Europe, a large portion of this output has come from American ores. Carnotite and pitchblende are the uranium minerals which carry the radium. Practically the total American output of pitchblende, the richest of these, has come from the mines in Gilpin county, Colorado. Pitchblende of the highest grade was sent out of the country at a time when the world's radium output was supposed to be coming from Austrian ores.

Parsons has pointed out that while the Austrian Government, realizing the untold possibilities of the radium ores of St. Joachimsthal, has purchased the mines, put their output under direct governmental supervision, and entered into an agreement whereby this ore is worked up in co-operation with the Vienna Academy of Sciences for experimental purposes in a carefully administered radium institute, America has allowed her much more extensive resources to be exploited on a basis which wastes perhaps irretrievably a large portion of the material mined, and has exported carefully selected ores at a price by no means commensurate with their radium value if worked up at home. At least 20 or 25 tons of high-grade pitchblende have already been sent out of the country. Of late the foreigners have realized the value of our carnotite resources. The mineral, which always carries vanadium as well as uranium and radium, is purchased almost wholly for the radium which it contains. The more important deposits are scattered over a considerable area in Colorado and Utah. The United States Bureau of Mines has discovered that these ores are being shipped abroad in some quantity.

Bearing in mind that practically every ton of radium-yielding ore mined in 1912 went abroad, that the American deposits are by no means inexhaustible, that we are rapidly depleting our reserve and shipping away material of great value and unknown possibilities which cannot be replaced, that the present market value of radium is about $2,250,000 an ounce; that the American medical fraternity has been compelled to procure from abroad such radium as individuals or hospitals could afford, and that the study of the possible application of radium in a therapeutic way has been hampered greatly by its almost prohibitive price, we must welcome an investigation of the situation by American authorities.—[Journal American Medical Association.]

WHY SOME MEN FAIL—A LESSON IN PATRIOTISM

A woman contributor to the July Woman's Home Companion, in the course of an article on "The Country of Our Dreams," makes the following statements:

"Wherever there is a man who is a failure, look, and there you will generally find not far from him in his life, some girl or a woman who was selfish. I could show you many such, who, giving no large service themselves, prevent service-ability in the lives of the men they influence; extravagant women, ambitious women, petty women, senseless women, emotional and nervous women, selfish women, who actually hinder men from giving their larger service.

"To put down personal selfishness, to go cheerfully about our tasks, to forget our own good in striving for the many, to deal justly and reverently with the men we know—you may call these humble ways, but they are far-reaching; and, above all, they are a woman's ways of patriotism, such patriotism as shall at least mold for us, as I think neither votes for women nor any other agency can, quite so potentially, the country of our dreams."

PROPOSE TO SELL THE PHILIPPINES

To Japan—Said To Be the Plan Launched.

THEY ARE LIABILITY TO U. S.

Japs Need Them, We Don't, So Why Not Let the Islands Go?

A PERTINENT TOPIC JUST NOW

Seattle, Wash., June 28.—"Sell the Philippine Islands to Japan!" Whether or not a movement to bring about a sale will be launched in this country, is now under discussion by members of the Seattle Commercial Club.

"Sell them quick; they are a liability," is the plea of those favoring the plan.

"You can't sell them without admitting to the world that the United States made a mistake in buying them," is the argument of those opposed to it.

"It would be foolish to start such a move only to have Japan say, 'thanks, but I don't want 'em,' but the highest Japanese on the Pacific Coast admit that Japan is only waiting for Uncle Sam to hint that he wants to sell."

Friends of the proposition point out that this country forgot the Monroe Doctrine when it bought lands in the Orient.

Other reasons advanced for their sale are:

The islands are a source of military and naval expense; the garrison will have to be increased from year to year if the investment of American capital there is to be encouraged.

The only excuse for holding them is, that they help American trade in the Far East. Eliminating the trade made necessary by military occupation, the remaining trade at present is negligible, when compared to the trade with Japan and China.

That the islands would be difficult to hold in case of war with any foreign Power.

That the United States doesn't need colonies for excess population or exploitation, but has all that it can handle in taking care of its affairs.

That Japan needs the Philippines for colonization purposes. It is pointed out that this is an age of reciprocity; that Uncle Sam is even now considering the ceding to Canada of a strip of Southeastern Alaska, which cuts off a great deal of British Columbia's land from the sea, and that the sale of the Philippines to Japan would make Nippon our friend forever, and be practical fulfillment of the Golden Rule.

The sale of the islands would involve so much international red tape, that those interested are making haste slowly and so far, the project, although before the club officially, has only reached the talking stage. The thing to be decided is "shall the Government be encouraged to sell the Philippines to Japan?"

Take Plenty of Time to Eat.

There is a saying that "rapid eating is slow suicide." If you have formed the habit of eating too rapidly you are most likely suffering from indigestion or constipation which will result eventually in serious illness unless corrected. Digestion begins in the mouth. Food should be thoroughly masticated and insalivated. Then when you have a fullness of the stomach or feel dull and stupid after eating, take one of Chamberlain's Tablets. Many severe cases of stomach trouble and constipation have been cured by the use of these tablets. They are easy to take and most agreeable in effect. Sold by all dealers. (Advertisement.)

WHAT IS A LOBBYIST? THE TERM IS DEFINED

Many United States Senators called upon recently to define the word "lobbyist" have exhibited a shocking misunderstanding of the term. Is there a relationship between this loose appreciation and the very evil of which complaint is made?

A lobbyist is a person who, for hire or hope of personal gain, secretly and corruptly by bribery, intimidation, delusion, persuasion, promises or otherwise, attempts either to defeat the will of the people as expressed at the polls or to influence the representatives of the people to betray their trust to the advantage of private interests.

Senators who can see no difference between a lobbyist of this kind and one who appears publicly and honestly, even though mistakenly, in behalf of a cause that may be wrong, unpopular and perhaps greedy, are not so innocent as they would have us believe.—[New York World.]

FOLEY KIDNEY PILLS

FOR BACKACHE, RHEUMATISM AND BLADDER

STOMACH TROUBLE FOR FIVE YEARS

Majority of Friends Thought Mr. Hughes Would Die, But One Helped Him to Recovery.

Pomeroyton, Ky.—In interesting advices from this place, Mr. A. J. Hughes writes as follows: "I was down with stomach trouble for five (5) years, and would have sick headache so bad, at times, that I thought surely I would die.

I tried different treatments, but they did not seem to do me any good.

I got so bad, I could not eat or sleep, and all my friends, except one, thought I would die. He advised me to try Theodor's Black-Draught, and quit taking other medicines. I decided to take his advice, although I did not have any confidence in it.

I have now been taking Black-Draught for three months, and it has cured me—haven't had those awful sick headaches since I began using it.

I am so thankful for what Black-Draught has done for me."

Theodor's Black-Draught has been found a very valuable medicine for derangements of the stomach and liver. It is composed of pure, vegetable herbs, contains no dangerous ingredients, and acts gently, yet surely. It can be freely used by young and old, and should be kept in every family chest.

Why certainly, let's make it a safe and sane Fourth!

Wonder what has become of Ohio county's experimental split log drag?

The first anniversary of the Bull Moose is now near at hand, but we do not hear of any flag-pole-raising to commemorate the event.

These are the days when the charities of benevolent people, dispersed during winter's freezing
reign, are generally forgotten.

Recent trials in such cases have shown that it only costs a chauffeur
a minimum of $200 to a maximum of $400 to kill a person in Louisville, Ky.

How the mighty (?) have fallen!
Former Gov. A. E. Willson is now running for alderman in Louisville.
Really, though, this is as high as he should have ever gotten.

The fact that there is no accounting for choices in human action is further proven by the fact that a laborer at Fort Worth, Texas, kissed a mule. Unlike the old woman who kissed the cow, however, he was fined heavily for his ungallantry.

The old saying that Uncle Joe Cannon is very hard to "down" has lately been further verified by the fact that he went through the courses of a home-coming banquet
where two hundred cases of ptomaine poisoning were developed without being hurt. His verbal report of his experience has not been printed.

Why can't a Good Roads Association be organized in Ohio county?
They have one over in Hopkins county, with many members, and it is doing wonders for the roads
there, the split log drag being the main implement used. Why wait all through the long summer until the roads become impassable again and then take it all out in talking about what could have been done?

It is passing strange how it takes
so much money to run the Kentucky Children's Home Society of Louisville. It gets fifty thousand dollars a year from the State, besides thousands contributed from private sources. It handles few children compared to the enormous expense. They have a Children's Home over at Hopkinsville which handles nearly as many children
with not a cent of endowment.

The Elizabethtown News, in an appropriate editorial, speaks some very kind words in behalf of ex-Senator J. C. S. Blackburn, and says this old war horse of Kentucky Democracy should not be ignored by the leaders of triumphant Democracy in the distribution of political pie. It calls attention to the valiant party services of Senator Blackburn in the dark days of defeat and suggests that his reward now should not be uncertain. In all of which the News is quite right.

It is a pity that the old ex-Confederate veterans of Kentucky should have held out in front of them the tempting reward of a pension for worthy services of fifty years ago, only to have the matter delayed and put off until their hearts fall at the prospect of ever getting anything. Quite a number have died since this bill was passed.
They will not be with us long now
—these tottering heroes of many fierce conflicts—and their bounty
should come soon if they are to enjoy its blessings here, before the final roll-call to eternal encampment.

No well regulated family should
be without its county newspaper,
and a semi-weekly or a daily in addition, if it can be afforded. But the county paper should come first,
and all the time. It serves as a system of education and information to all the family, especially the children. It contains in a condense form all the current news of the week just preceding its issue, besides other instructive and entertaining matters of general interest.
It is an injustice to the children to deprive them of this source of valuable information, while the husband and wife can hardly afford to do without it.

The Courier-Journal says: "The fact that Kentucky is to receive $22,500 from the Federal Government for educational and demonstration work among the farmers should give much impetus to the movement for better farming." Indeed it should, but experiments along this line have shown that in some sections of Kentucky the farmers do not seem to want to learn, even when the educational and demonstration work is free as

air. Usually a political convention or speaking will draw a larger crowd of farmers to town than a farmers' institute. Both are important, but the latter should easily transcend the former.

The Court of Appeals has decided that in order to get on the ballot, a candidate must have supported the party under whose emblem
his name is to appear, at the last general election. This support does not necessarily mean that he shall have voted for all or any of the candidates of that party, but by open avowal and otherwise, he was generally known as an ardent champion of that party's cause.
That certainly settles it so far as this county is concerned. There are a number of candidates now running on the Republican ticket for nomination who less than a year ago were whooping things up for the Progressive propaganda in great fashion.

SHOOTS BANK CASHIER IN HOLD-UP ATTEMPT

Cumberland, Tenn., June 30.—
"Con" Barnes, 25 years old, a railroad sectionhand, turned bandit today, according to his own confession, attempted to hold up the Cumberland City Bank, shot the cashier, and when pursued by citizens with nothing more formidable than stones for weapons, threw down his repeating rifle and automatic pistol
and meekly surrendered.

His victim, Nixon Pickard, with a bullet-through his right breast and another through his arm, may die.

Barnes was taken to Dover, where he was placed in jail. He said:

"I wanted money and was bound to have it."

ESQ. J. H. MILES ISSUES STATEMENT TO VOTERS

Paradise, Ky., June 29, 1913.
Editors Hartford Herald:—In presenting my claims for the Republican nomination for Judge of the County Court, I wish to say to the voters and tax payers of the county that my record as Magistrate is before them and is subject to the scrutiny and consideration of the people. As a Magistrate I have tried to give the best service the circumstances would admit. I have taken great interest in the roads and bridges of the county, in fact I would never have served as Magistrate if I had not thought the condition of the roads could have been bettered, and I feel they have been improved a great deal. I am offering my services to the people as County Judge so if elected I can continue this improvement in the roads and bridges, and if in the end
the people see fit to elect me as County Judge, I will use my best efforts to get the roads in the best possible condition, pay the debts of the county and in every way get the affairs of the county in the best possible condition. I assure you that any assistance or support given me will be appreciated.

STATE DIVIDED BY THE TRUSTS

No Competition For Tobacco Allowed.

FORCED TO SELL THEIR CROP

At Cost of Production—Testimony of Men Familiar With Situation.

ACCUSE A BRITISH CONCERN

Washington, June 28.—Statements were made before a joint Congressional Committee by Henderson men to-day that the Imperial Tobacco Company holds domineering and oppressive sway over the Kentucky growers west of Green river, while the American Tobacco Company monopolizes the State tobacco industry east of that river. The witnesses further said that for seven years the Stemming District Tobacco Association, embracing five counties, with Henderson as headquarters, has been forced to sell its crops to the British concern at the bare cost of production.

William Elliott, general manager,
E. G. Thompson, secretary, and James N. Banks, secretary of the Henderson county board of the Stemming District organization, were those who appeared. The purpose of a general investigation into the tobacco trade by the Congressional Committee, headed by Senator Martin, of Virginia, is primarily to procure information that will lead to relief for the tobacco farmers of this country through reciprocity treaties with European nations.

The Kentuckians, whose association produces from 75 to 85 per cent of the dark tobacco in the Henderson territory, testified that the Imperial Company has controlled the prices paid for their tobacco for years, and has so cowed the independent buyers that they no longer will make advance bids for the stemming district crops. All other buyers "trail the trust" from necessity, they said.

The same tactics are pursued in Great Britain by the Imperial,
which is in league with the Regie
buyers of Italy and other countries of continental Europe, they asserted. Never has a Regie buyer offered anything but the "trust-made price."

At the instance of Representative
A. O. Stanley, who was present throughout to-day's hearing, the stemming district officials introduced in evidence a copy of the indictment of the Kentucky branch of the Imperial Company for criminal conspiracy in restraint of trade in the Henderson Circuit Court, trial under which will take place in September in Union county.

The committee to-day subpoena-
ed as a witness Commonwealth's Attorney Sam F. Dixon, of Henderson. A. B. Jarvis, of the Stemming District Association, will also be a witness. These two are expected to testify here one day next week.

William Elliott was the first witness to-day. He testified that the Imperial Company always opens the market. Only once in his experience had an independent bought first. That was the case of an Englishman a few years ago, who purchased 1,000,000 pounds.

"The independent buyers always wait for the trust to open," said he.
"They know the trust controls the market in this country as well as in England, and they follow the prices offered by the leaders. They realize that whatever the Imperial pays for tobacco, they must pay on both sides of the Atlantic. I visit Europe twice and sometimes three times a year, and have observed
the manner of the trust's operations closely.

"Our Kentucky tobacco is made up into three grades, known as the 'poor man's'. It is called Irish roll, pigtail and twist, and the trust goes
not make a penny on the tobacco.
They follow that policy, and do it effectively, to kill the little fellow.
There are a very few independents,
only the strongest, who can withstand that system. The trust sells this class of tobacco at cost and makes its profit on proprietary or fancy brands of tobacco. It is a big profit, too."

In response to questions of Representative Flood, of Virginia, and Representative Stanley, Mr. Elliott said the Imperial Company and the Italian Regie buyers get the raw material for the fancy cigarettes in Virginia bights.

"The Imperial Tobacco Company
is a trust on English tobacco," said
the witness, "and is the sole buyer substantially in our territory. The American Tobacco Company used to buy in our region what we call "unfired" tobacco, but for some reason hasn't bought a pound there in years. We have been compelled to sell to the Imperial at 7 cents a pound when the cost of production was 7 cents a pound."

E. G. Thompson and James N.
Banks are here as witnesses, and will testify later. The same proof on which the Imperial Company was indicted in Kentucky, charged with a criminal combination in restraint of trade, is being submitted to the Senate Committee, of which Senator Martin, of Virginia, is chairman.

The officials of the stemming district have placed before the committee evidence to the effect that for seven years their association has been forced to sell to the "trust
buyers." The Imperial and Regie buyers, they allege, are in criminal conspiracy to take for seven years
the product of the stemming type of tobacco grown at less than the cost of production. Under the existing administration of the laws,
it was represented, the growers
have had no legal protection.

Ditch Tax, Assessment Notice.

At a meeting of the Ohio County Board of Drainage Commissioners held at the office of the Clerk of the Ohio County Court, on Tuesday, November 19, 1912, with S. T. Barnett, president, presiding, and S. L.
Stevens and J. B. Wilson present,
there was by orders regularly passed and entered, a TAX or assessment of TEN per cent levied against each and all of the land owners within the Ditch or Drainage Districts in said county, which Drainage districts are known and designated in orders and judgments
establishing the same, in Ohio
County Court Order Books, as follows:

L. M. Ward, et al., Ditch or drainage district, the W. C. Knott,
et al., ditch or drainage district,
the J. P. Taylor, et al., ditch or drainage district, the B. W. Rial,
et al., ditch or drainage district,
the R. B. Martin, et al., ditch or drainage district and the M. F.
Tichenor, et al., ditch or drainage
district.

Said tax or assessment hereby levied, to be used in defraying expense of cleaning out, repairing and all other incidents necessary to the up-keep of said ditches, drains or water courses within said drainage districts, and the said Tax or assessment hereby made against each of said land owners to be based upon the original assessment for cost of construction as shown by assessment roll now in the hands of the Treasurer of Ohio county.

"The assessment above made and referred to, when collected, to be kept in separate funds, and the funds created by assessment of land owners in each district to be used only for the needs of that particular ditch or drainage district."

The tax above levied may be paid
within the next 30 days to the Treasurer of Ohio county, without additional cost, but if not paid within said period, same will be certified to the Sheriff of Ohio
county for collection, when a commission for collection will be added.

vice ever attempted. Treasury officials to-night announced that everything was in readiness for the transformation. By a sweeping consolidation the number of customs districts grown to 162 during the nation's history, has been reduced to forty-nine and 113 collectors of customs lose their positions. Officials estimate that the reorganization will result in an annual saving of between $400,000 and $500,000 in the cost of collecting the duties. Because of ambiguous phraseology in the law authorizing the reform, officials are still unable to determine whether Congress contemplated a saving of $350,000 or $700,000 by the reorganization. Collectors of Customs on the Canadian border, who for years have enjoyed perquisites from the sale of manifests and other customs blanks to importers, aggregating, it is said, at least $200,000 annually, will be deprived of this gratuity by the reorganization. These collectors will receive now only their statutory salaries, ranging from $3,500 to $6,000 a year. These perquisites, it is declared in some instances, netted collectors $20,000 annually. The Government in future will sell the blanks at 1 cent each or permit importers to furnish their own forms.

M. L. HEAVRIN.

In presenting my claims for the Republican nomination for Judge of the County Court, the people should know my views upon questions affecting their interest. I favor rigid economy in the management of the county's finances; ONE HUNDRED CENTS IN VALUE FOR EVERY DOLLAR SPENT; the prompt payment of its debts; with the end in view that our taxes shall be lowered; better roads and safer bridges. A careful study of the county's financial affairs shows that by proper management these things can be accomplished. If nominated and elected I will work persistently and continuously to bring about these results. I assure you that any assistance or support given me will be appreciated.

There was a double wedding at the Yeiser House last Saturday afternoon when Mr. Joe Stewart and Miss Ada Allen and Mr. Len Allen and Miss Dumie Parks were united in marriage by Rev. Saville, pastor of the Hartford Methodist church. Both bridal couples reside in the Mt. Pleasant neighborhood.

In this issue of The Herald will be found the announcement of Mr. M. L. Heavrin for the Republican nomination for County Judge of Ohio county. Mr. Heavrin is too well known throughout Ohio county for comment on our part. Suffice it to say that he is well qualified for the position he seeks.

We see from the Louisville Post that the name of Mr. S. A. Anderson, formerly of Hartford, will go on the primary ballot for the Republican nomination for Councilman of Louisville. As the full set of Republican candidates have no opposition, the same names will appear on the official ballot for the November election.

Miss Gladys Duke, whose home is in Hartford but who is now book-keeper for a firm in Louisville, was operated on for appendicitis at the Norton Infirmary last Saturday morning. The operation was a very successful one and she has since been getting along as well as could be expected. She will visit her brother, Mr. Ramey Duke, as soon as she is able to travel.

Esq. J. H. Miles, who is serving his second term as Justice of the Peace for the Rockport Magisterial District, announces this week in the columns of The Herald as a candidate for the Republican nomination for County Judge of Ohio county. Esq. Miles is well qualified for the position he is seeking and if nominated will make a strong race. See his card and announcement in another column.

Tichenor, Hartford, R. 5, candidate for the Democratic nomination for County Judge, were callers at The Herald office yesterday.

Mr. Richard T. Ross and family, of Harrison, Ark., are visiting relatives and friends in Ohio county. Mrs. Ross reached Kentucky about two weeks ago and visited in Owensboro a few days and came to McHenry to visit her parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. S. Smith. Mr. Ross came to Kentucky about a week ago. They will leave on their return trip Saturday. They will go from here to Dawson Springs and after spending a few days there, will return home. Mr. and Mrs. Ross visited friends and relatives in Hartford Tuesday and Wednesday.

OIL FIELD NEWS.

Brant & Co. having succeeded in straightening the hole in the well on the Brown farm, are now making good headway and if no unforeseen accident occurs this well should soon be brought in.

The well being put down by Mr. Lawrence, on the Bennett farm, near Beda, is now about 800 feet, with good showings.

At a depth of about 800 or 900 feet the Shaw people, who are drilling on the Sullenger place, struck such a heavy flow of blue lick water and gas last Sunday night that they had to stop and are drawing the casing to reach the hole out and replace the casing below, to shut off the flow of water. The gas, by some means, was ignited and damaged the tools to some extent before the flames were extinguished. Favorable conditions are showing in this well.

Work on the other locations is progressing nicely.

Messrs. Fohs & Gardner, geologists of Lexington Ky., have gotten out a new Ohio county oil map, which is now on the market. For sale at The Herald office.

Lecture to Sunday School.

July 6th, at Hartford courthouse, eight o'clock p. m., Prof. Dudley, of Earlington, a great Sunday School man, will give a lecture. There will be no services at the Methodist Church that night on account of this lecture.

Everybody is cordially invited to come and hear Prof. Dudley talk about the Sunday School, what the Sunday School is for, why people should attend it, and how it affects the young people of the land. I am sure you will not regret the coming, for he is an entertainer—a man of facts, a fine man and a good speaker.

Every time you meet any one, tell them that Prof. Dudley, of Earlington, lectures at the court house this coming Sunday night, and urge them to be sure to come, for what he shall say will be worth hearing.

Sincerely,
W. E. SAVILLE, Pastor.

Notice to Water Users.
Persons who have hydrants must not attach hose and leave water running over night, and they are not allowed to use same to water gardens. We want everybody to have plenty of water, and it is not fair to those living at end or near end of pipe line to be shut off from the water by the constant waste between them and the tank. Unless persons attend to their hydrants and keep them closed over night, we shall be compelled to shut water off wherever this is neglected.

A GLIMPSE OF MODERN JERICO

The Famous City Of Ancient Times.

ITS CONTINUOUS VICISSITUDES

And Present Squalor Indicate Its Rather Inglorious History.

ABOUT 400 POPULATION NOW

The mound of Jericho lies egg-shaped and rises 20 to 25 feet above the plain. Prof. Sellin and the German Oriental Society have laid bare at a number of places the walls of the old city. Like all Hebrew ruins, they do not show very great architectural ability. Whatever strength they may have had in Canaanite times, they naturally do not compare in magnificence and in ability to withstand assault with the fortified cities of the Greeks and Romans. The houses were built of sun-dried brick and some of these are to be found in the ruins. The city which Joshua assaulted lay several miles from the Jordan, and its ruins are a mile distant from the modern town. The old city was built beside a magnificent spring which here issues from the hills. Traditions do not always need a fountain to give them growth, but beside this spring a tradition of ancient growth is found. It is to the effect that these waters are those which Elisha healed with salt, and therefore they are known to-day as Elisha's Spring.

The curious visitor, standing on the mound at Jericho, wonders why the city did not continue through the centuries. In spite of Joshua's curse, the city was rebuilt. The fertile valley demanded a market town. It was of sufficient importance to tempt Mark Antony, who presented the city to the covetous Cleopatra. This fair lady sold the place to Herod the Great, who embellished the city with his usual magnificence. Here he was carried from Machaerus to die. In the early Christian centuries Jericho was an Episcopal residence. Yet neither Hebrew, Roman, Crusader nor Mohammedan could here perpetuate his civilization. George Adam Smith has written the answer. "No great man was born in Jericho; no heroic deed ever was done in her. She has been called the key and the guardhouse of Judea; she was only the pantry. She never stood a siege, and her inhabitants always were running away." We have the praise of Judah's historian for Rahab, but if she was a typical citizen, the walls of her city could not long endure when its inhabitants began to betray their countrymen.

Modern Jericho is a dull, squalid village with approximately 400 population. Two or three hotels take care of the tourists who come by the carriage road for a sight of the Jordan and the Dead Sea. One night spent here, which the trip requires, usually sends the visitor back to Jerusalem thirsty, tired and flea-bitten. There is sufficient water and fertile soil to turn acres of badly farmed and uncultivated fields into a sub-tropical garden. Herod the Great had his winter residence here, and with the hot springs across the sea, were there initiative to inaugurate improvements, the place once more might become an attractive resort for all Syria.

It was nearly 7 when we reached the Jordan Bridge. This is one of the two bridges which now cross the stream. This southern bridge is wooden, with rough, uneven floor, and latticed sides. It is quite narrow, and barely admits the crossing of a carriage. The western end is guarded by a gate which opens only on the payment of toll. The keeper lives near by, and he must respond at any hour of the day or night to the call of caravans and shepherds. [Zion's Herald.]

LITTLE ECONOMIES AS SHOWN BY CALCULATION

A postage stamp will purchase you the use of a dollar for 122 days. Three stamps equal the interest on a dollar for one whole year. Little economies rarely enter into the calculations of the average man or woman—those who earn from $500 to $5,000 a year.

Men who smoke cigars easily consume three a day, costing not under 30 cents—enough to pay for the use of $1,825 for that day! If that $1,825 were put to work in an intelligent way it might help win bread for the rest of the family.

A look at the baseball game from the grand stand yesterday afternoon cost you just as much as the use of $4,500 would have done for the entire day.

Big Business never smokes nor does it go to baseball games. Resources in large establishments are not spent that way. Those who operate Big Business may now and then hire a private car or sail in a yacht, but the business itself economizes down to the last rubber band. It couldn't thrive otherwise. Mr. Common Man might take a lesson from Big Business in trivial economies. As Franklin quoted: "A penny saved is twopence clear; A pin a day's a groat a year." —[Philadelphia Ledger.]

HORSES ARE BLINDED TO MAKE THEM DOCTILE

Chicago, June 26.—That a large number of horses in Chicago have been deliberately made blind to make them more easily managed is the report of agents of the Anti-Cruelty Society, whose curiosity was aroused by the docility of young and apparently normal animals. Warrants will be asked to-day for horse dealers accused of the mutilations.

"These horses have been blinded by men who guarantee to purchasers that they will not shy and need no blinders," said Hugo Krause, superintendent of the Society. "A needle has been jabbed through each retina. The wound is scarcely noticeable, but a horse so treated will never see again. Peddlers in particular desire horses which are quiet and the blinding of the animals has been put on a commercial basis."

In the South Water street market yesterday fifty horses were found that had been blinded, presumably by this method.

WHY FARM WOMEN DIE—A READY EXPLANATION

Farm and Fireside, an agricultural paper published at Springfield, O., contains in its current number an interesting account of farm life as viewed from the standpoint of women. The author of the article (a woman) says that as the farm becomes more prosperous the farmer has more help, both men and machinery, while the work of his wife is increased—more people to cook for and wash dishes for, more fruit, more chickens and milk to attend to. In the majority of cases the farmer's wife does not have more help as her work becomes heavier. The author goes on to say:

"It is a statistical fact that farm women die earlier than do farm men, and that those who survive the years of drudgery break in health sooner than do the men. The opposite is true in town. There is no doubt in my mind that the biggest factor in the development of this state of affairs is the woeful lack of labor-saving contrivances in the farm woman's home. Many houses in the country are still without that greatest of labor-savers—a kitchen sink, with a pump or faucet and with a drain leading out from it. The carrying in and out of water is the most laborious and back-breaking task of all the hard tasks belonging to the housekeeper. There is no substitute for a kitchen sink. If you can add but one thing to your home this year, and if you have no kitchen sink, let that be the addition."

Why They Came.

Willie, aged 4, had been invited out to tea with his mother, and, while he was being dressed for the occasion, the delights in store for him had been depicted in glowing terms.

While his mother chatted with their hostess, Willie sat in solemn silence, and at last the lady of the house arose.

"Now I must bring in tea," she announced, then added: "Would Willie like some tea?"

The child eyed her in astonishment, and, in a deeply hurt tone, responded:

"Why, that's what we came for."

RANK IN AGRICULTURE OF THE UNITED STATES

Is Small—In Relative Productivity We Are Only the Seventeenth.

Although no doubt this is the greatest country on the round earth, nevertheless it has to take quite a back seat in relative productivity in various crops, ranking only seventeenth among the nations of the world, its index figure on the score being 108. The world's greatest countries, according to the figures prepared by the Department of Agriculture of these United States, so there cannot be anything prejudiced against us about them, thus rank:

Belgium, 221; Switzerland, 202; Netherlands, 200; United Kingdom, 177; Germany, 169; Denmark, 168; New Zealand, 167; Egypt, 161; Japan, 137; Canada, 136; Chile, 136; Sweden, 136; Norway, 128; France, 123; Austria, 120; Hungary, 113; United States, 108; Italy, 96; Roumania, 94; Spain, 93; Bulgaria, 87; India, 84; Australia, 76; Serbia, 76; Argentina, 75; Portugal, 73; Russia (European), 72; Russia (Asiatic), 71; Uruguay, 70; Algeria, 65; Mexico, 52; Tunis, 37.

It is surprising to find Canada ranking so far ahead of the United States. The productivity of the United States is less than one half of that of the highest in the world, Belgium.

Now, what is the index figure? The index figure is the relative yield per acre of the six products of wheat, oats, rye, barley, corn and potatoes, a definite series of years being taken, and these average yields reduced to their percentages of the average yield of all countries. The percentages were, in other words, combined, weighted in proportion to the relative acreage of the various crops in the country. The results named are those which were obtained from this process of calculation, 100 representing the weighted average of all countries.

Of the six crops mentioned, the total area, excluding grass and hay crops, comprised 82 per cent in Germany, 75 per cent in France, 72 in the United Kingdom, 79 in Denmark, 70 in Holland, 75 in Belgium, 84 in Austria, 87 in Hungary, 45 in Italy, 65 in Spain, 87 in European Russia, 91 in Asiatic Russia, 31 in Japan, 91 in Australia, 91 in Canada, 88 in Argentina and 82 in the United States.—[Washington Cor. New York Sun.]

Mrs. Kate Armendt. Died at Somerville, Wednesday, June 18, 1913, at 2 a. m., Mrs. Kate Armendt, wife of Mr. J. A. Armendt, aged 38 years and 9 months.

Mrs. Armendt was a sufferer for several months, and all that medical skill and tender nursing could do was done for her, but to no avail. Several weeks ago she was taken to a sanatorium in Temple, and since being brought home, her life has been hanging in the balance.

Deceased was a member of the Methodist church and her long suffering was borne with a resignation that only the true Christian can know.

Funeral services were held at the family residence Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock by Rev. I. W. Campbell, pastor of the Methodist church, immediately after which the remains were interred at Oak Lawn cemetery, a large number of sorrowing relatives and friends being in attendance.

Mrs. Armendt is survived by a husband, two daughters and a son, who have the sympathy of the entire community in their great sorrow.—[Somerville, (Tex.) Tribune.]

2,800 HAPPY CHILDREN TREATED TO A CIRCUS

By a Millionaire Who When a Boy Hadn't the Price Of a Ticket.

Chicago, June 28.—Twenty-five years ago a penniless boy in Delevan, Wis., viewed with envy the boys of his town as they sped on their way to the big attraction of the day—a circus. He couldn't go; he hadn't the price—25 cents. He longed to be inside that tent and see its wonders that more fortunate boys were enjoying.

Then he made a resolution. It was that he would get rich and see all the circuses he desired. He decided to come to Chicago, vowing as he left home that some time he would come back, buy the town and give every boy in the county a circus.

That boy, now Edward Tilden, millionaire packer, kept his promise to-day when he gave a circus to 2,800 small boys and girls living in Delevan and vicinity. He has already kept most of his promise concerning the buying of the town, for he owns many large farms there and a palatial country place on Delevan Lake where his little guests frolicked to-day.

It was more than a circus. Everything the childish heart could desire was there and in abundance. Jimmy Ward made an aeroplane flight. Hundreds of automobiles whirled through the forest drives, carrying hundreds of happy children. There was a circus in which some of the best acrobats, bareback riders and clowns performed.

Then there was a feast such as never had been seen by many of the guests. A Chicago band furnished music throughout the day. The various amusement features and the dinner cost Mr. Tilden $10,000.

"It was worth it," he said to-night. "It has been long since I felt the real thrills of pleasure that I experienced to-day at the sight of the happiness that surrounded me. I am glad I was able to do it. It has been a most joyous occasion."

YEARS' FOOD BILL OF ONE BIG LINE

Was $4,920,000, According to the Records.

BURNED 1,758,740 TONS COAL

Costing $7,376,735—Various Expenses of North German Lloyd.

CARRIED 800,000 PASSENGERS

The New York World says: That it costs a big steamship company a pretty penny to provide the necessities and comforts of its passengers is manifest when you learn that in 1912 the North German Lloyd's bill for provisions alone was $4,920,000, while the 1,758,740 tons of coal it used cost $7,376,735. Thus for these two items alone the line paid $12,296,735, and the greater part of it went to American dealers.

Meats, not including fish and game, cost $1,685,000. Fish cost the company $239,660, game $412,360.

For preserves $255,760 was paid. Fresh vegetables cost $128,110. "Sundries"—bread, flour, spices, fruits and the thousand and one articles used in the galleys—cost $1,688,890.

The company used 17,875,873 pounds (about 223,448 bushels) of potatoes, 6,313,152 pounds of flour, 5,769,134 pounds of fresh beef and 2,353,083 pounds of bread.

The passengers consumed 7,098,560 eggs, 4,271,059 oranges and lemons, 707,625 pounds of onions and 983,802 pounds of salt; 463,340 pounds of coffee, 41,729 pounds of tea and 529,619 cans of sterilized milk, not to mention 14,918 bottles of fresh cream. Incidentally 12,097 boxes of matches were used.

Among the other items were 83,651 pounds of yeast, 1,056,057 pounds of butter and 19,119,242 pounds of ice.

Rhein and Mosel proved the most popular wines, leading the wine cards with 112,211 bottles, as against 35,987 bottles of champagne. Of beer 302,521 bottles were drunk, in addition to 1,720,634 liters in barrels—a liter being the equivalent of about one quart.

And still the North German Lloyd last year declared a dividend of 7 per cent., writing off $6,500,000 to depreciation and reporting a gross surplus of $12,937,500, an increase over 1911 of $2,582,500. During the year more than 2,327,225 cigars and packages of cigarettes were smoked in the company's smokers and on deck.

About one gallon of mineral water is consumed per passenger, but a large percentage of this is said to be used for "chasers."

The line recently brought to America its ten-millionth passenger, a Hungarian immigrant, who got his passage free. Assuming that the line carried last year on its steamers 800,000 passengers and the cost of its food supplies was $4,299,000, the average cost of feeding a passenger would be $6.15. In the year 1908 the cost of feeding 661,258 passengers was $4,169,802.

Costly Preliminaries.

"How soon do you start on your trip to Europe?" asked a man of a friend he chanced to meet one morning.

"I had to give it up," replied the other.

"Why so?" inquired the first. "Well, you see," said the man, "my wife went and ordered her clothes for the trip and when the bills were paid there was absolutely no money left to go with."

THE GRAND CANYON AND ITS IMMENSE MYSTERY

"How do you explain it?" inquired one on meeting Sir John Murray, the eminent English geologist and President of the Royal Geographical Society. This was briefly the answer, though not in his words:

"On either side of the wide plain, extending from 60 to 100 miles to the right and left of the canyon, evidences of severe volcanic action are visible. In the center was a plateau, but now you look down upon it as the vast chasm of the canyon. Thrice the volcanic forces of nature, operating on either side, violently and with tremendous power, forced this plateau upward until finally in one cyclonic, tremendous upheaval the plateau parted, and the Grand Canyon, the wonder and mystery of the world, was born. Imagine a loaf of dough rising silently under the continuous pressure of the yeast until finally the crust is broken and the loaf divided into two. Then look at the broken crust of Mother Earth. In the early days a vast area embracing a great portion of the interior of the American Continent was covered with water. It was a great sea. All over the Canyon fossil oyster shells proved this contention. The Grand Canyon opened, the waters of the inland sea rushed through in a tearing flood and carved the fantastic forms you now see."

The questioner further inquired of Sir John: "No doubt this was all very remote—in the early stages of the world?"

"Oh, no," said Sir John. "Modern, quite modern—not more than 20,000,000 or 30,000,000 years ago!"—[Leslie's Weekly.]

FOUND WATCH IN A FISH—THINKS IT BAD LUCK

Did any one of you lose a watch at 13 minutes after 12 o'clock?

Silas Cooper, whose skin is the color of newspaper ink, is asking the question of every one he sees. Silas didn't feel well enough to work Friday so he dug over four acres of new ground for half a pint of worms and went fishing. It was an important expedition because he was to try out officially a fishhook which his mother had given him and which she guaranteed to be charged with good luck.

Silas dropped the hook in the water of placid Tangipahoa. Immediately something grabbed it and started off up the river with it. Silas jumped into the stream and after a heart-breaking effort, snaked a twenty-five-pound (inspected scales) catfish ashore.

The catch was too heavy to carry home intact, so Silas drew his knife and opened the fish's vest. Inside the stomach he found an Ingersoll watch in perfect condition. It had stopped at 13 minutes after 12 o'clock.

Silas doesn't know whether to part with the watch or not. He was offered $5 for it and refused to sell. Later, however, his brother was taken with a terrible case of cramps from eating some of the catfish fried. The fact that the fish was caught Friday and that the watch stopped at 13 minutes after 12 has convinced him that the timepiece is soaked with bad luck. He is hunting for the man that offered him the five.—[Amite City (Penn.) Cor. New Orleans States.]

ENGLAND'S ODD AND LONELY ISLE

Which Is Situated Only 48 Miles From London.

ITS POPULATION THIRTY-FIVE

With Six Dwellings—Only Nine Pupils Attending Public School.

INHABITANTS SHEEP CARERS

Only forty-eight miles from London there lies a "Robinson Crusoe" island almost untouched by civilization. Though surrounded by a group of populous towns, it is a parish where roads, shops, lamps, telephones, motor cars, public-houses and post-offices are unknown. True, the island possesses a school with nine scholars, and a church capable of seating 200 persons, but then there are only two houses and four cottages.

The name of this remote place, says London Mirror, which is chiefly famous for the benefits of civilization it does not possess, is Elmley. Elmley is an island of nearly 2,000 acres, and stands six miles southeast of Sheerness and four miles from Sittingbourne. At present it is the home of thirty-five men, women and children. The inhabitants are mostly "lookers" or shepherds of large flocks of sheep. The oldest man of the village is in his seventieth year. He has yet to see a motor car. "I have seen these 'arplanes' from Eastchurch," he told me, "but I've never seen a motor car."

Perhaps the school and church are the two chief landmarks on the island. The reason they were built in such a sparsely populated spot is that in winter it is almost impossible to leave the island. The mud is literally knee deep, and the ferry which runs to and from the island is dangerous. To-day I visited the little classroom. Mrs. Harris, who has been schoolmistress for eleven years, gave me the pupils' names of the entire "school." The total number on the roll is nine, but the number will soon dwindle down to six, for three of the children are leaving. "The small number of children enables me to give them individual instruction," said Mrs. Harris, who is a fully certificated mistress. The school is under the control of the Kent County Council, which pays a nominal rent of 1 shilling a year to Oxford University to whom the island belongs.

Minor misfortunes occur even in this peaceful, placid community. Sometimes the schoolroom clock stops, and then Mrs. Harris has to tell the time by the sun. When the sun's rays reach a certain portion of the schoolroom floor, then it is 12 o'clock, and the children go home. Though Elmley is without its sweetest shop, sweets are always obtainable, for Mrs. Harris keeps a large store in her schoolroom. Instead of drill in the summer the children always take part in haymaking, so that the Robinson Crusoe island children have at least one advantage over town children.

The only man attending church last Sunday in a congregation of sixteen was the bellringer, who is paid 1 shilling a week for his services. No funeral has taken place since 1908, and the last wedding was celebrated two years ago. A novel method of obtaining the services of the ferrymen, who live opposite the island, is the opening of the white door of a hut facing the shore. The ferrymen on the look-out know that the open door is a signal for the ferry. At night a lighted candle held aloft serves the purpose of the open door, while should something terrible happen a gun fired three times at minute intervals is the urgent sign to the sleeping ferrymen.

NO SEX IN CRIME—A PLEA FOR TRUE JUSTICE

There ought to be the sharpest dissent by women from the dictum about their sex by a Judge in this city. He discharged a woman brought before him, though stating that "she was undoubtedly guilty of perjury." He added: "If she were a man I would have committed her to the city prison to await the action of the grand jury. But such a course, he continued, would arouse the indignation of her sex." But why, if the case is so clear as he says? It is a necessary part of the demand for political equality on the part of woman that they accept to the full the doctrine of individual responsibility under the law irrespective of sex. A woman perjurer ought to be dealt with as severely as a male, and all her sisters should say amen. Men often display a lawless sentimentality in this matter of woman criminals. Two or three times in the past score of years we have had in this State appeals for the pardon of murderesses simply because they were women. But in all the instances that we remember, the Governors have done their duty and refused to interfere with the process of the law. Roosevelt certainly did so when he was Governor, in one notable case. And we may be sure that his new-born zeal for woman suffrage would not lead him to abate a jot of his conviction that crime is crime, and ought to be followed by due legal punishment, whether committed by man or woman. To take any other position would be folly.—[New York Evening Post.]

Great Weekly at a Low Price.

The Cincinnati Weekly Enquirer, a twelve-page paper recently transformed into the size and appearance of a daily, will be furnished in connection with the Hartford Herald at only $1.35 for the two papers. This price stands good on renewals for The Herald. The Weekly Enquirer is an ideal newspaper, containing a big variety of reading and is especially suited to the farming classes. It is Democratic and progressive. This is certainly a low price for a lot of good reading.

His Limit.

A farmer in great need of extra hands at haying time finally asked Si Warren, who was accounted the town fool, if he could help out.

"What'll ye pay?" asked Si. "I'll pay what you're worth," announced the farmer.

Si scratched his head a minute, then announced decisively: "I'll be durned if I'll work for that!"

Politeness.

She was only sixteen stone and three-quarters, so that when she trod on a banana skin she subsided very gently. A polite shopkeeper came out to assist her to rise from a box of his best new-laid-eggs.

"Oh, I do hope I have not broken them!" "Not at all, madam," said the polite one, "they are only bent."

Boiler Blown.

The Local Reporter—And is it the case, Mr. Murphy, that you and the late Mr. Casey stayed at your post, cool and collected, when the explosion occurred?

Mr. Murphy—It is not, sir. I was on the boiler at the time, an' anything but cool; an' it was only bits of Casey that were collected.

Diagnosis.

"Sure, and you had the doctor to see your husband, did ye?"

"Yes! He gave him a bottle o' bark and pepsin and a canine pill."

"Begorra! It's hydrophobia he has, I guess."

Repenting at Leisure.

Shimmerate—I understand Beanbrough fell in love with his wife at first sight.

Hemmandhaw—Yes; and now he is sorry he didn't take a second look.

It's all right to have plenty of go, but you also want to have some staying qualities.

SERIOUS ERROR IN HARTFORD.

Ohio County Citizens Will Do Well To Profit By the Following.

Many fatal cases of kidney disease have reached an incurable stage because the patient did not understand the symptoms. Even to-day in Hartford there are many residents making the same serious error. They attribute their mysterious aches and pains to overwork, or worry, perhaps, when all the time their rheumatic pains, backache and bladder irregularities are most probably due to weak and ailing kidneys. If you are ill, if your kidneys are out of order, profit by this Hartford resident's experience.

Henry Nall, Hartford, Ky., says: "I had pains in my back and in my sides. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, I procured a box at the Ohio County Drug Co. They did me a world of good. I recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to anyone suffering from kidney trouble."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

At East End Park on last Wednesday afternoon the fans were again treated to an exhibition of big league ball playing in what was undoubtedly one of the best games ever seen on the local diamond. When the Oil Magnates continued their winning streak by taking the Habit team into camp to the tune of 4 to 3. The Daviess county aggregation was composed of a fine lot of young fellows and they made a very favorable impression by their gentlemanly conduct.

This contest was the occasion for perhaps the best exhibition of pitching ever seen in this section. It was Johnson, the visitors' hurler, that proved to be the bright particular star. Throughout the major portion of the game he had the home batters entirely at his mercy, letting them down with only three hits to their credit. Barnett, who dispensed curves for the locals, also performed well. Although a little wild at first, he soon settled down and pitched good ball, the victory being due in a great measure to his efficiency. Thorpe, his battery-mate, played his usual good game and H. Coons for Habit also delivered the goods in a classy fashion in the backstopping position. Although each team made quite a number of errors, this falling only cropped out occasionally and on the whole the players on both sides performed in high class style.

The scoring began in Habit's half of the second inning. Welsh was safe at 1st when "Rick" fumbled his hot bouncer; Coats walked and went to 3d, while Welsh scored when Robertson failed to cover. 2d in time to receive Thorpe's accurate peg; Harrison fanned; Coats scored when Thorpe threw wild to 3d; Kirk slammed a pretty one to center and was safe at 2d; Hix was hit by pitched ball; Johnson walked; H. Coons flied out to short; Hite connected, but was out at 1st; Robertson to King.

In their half of the fifth, Habit added another tally on a single to left by H. Coons and a smashing double to center by B. Coons. In the latter part of the same session Hartford for the first time broke into the score column. With two down, B. Coons muffed Green's fly, "Shorty" was safe at 1st, and in a jiffy pilfered 2d and 3d in quick succession; Taylor reached 1st in safety and Green scored when the visitors' third-sacker fumbled John's speedy rap; "Rick" lifted a fly to short.

In the next period the Oil Magnates added another counter. With one down, King drove a vicious liner through Johnson and was safe at 1st; before Thomas fanned, King stole 2d and he then scored on a double by Thorpe which Kirk fumbled; Rosenblatt was out at 1st; Welsh to Coats.

The game was decided in the eighth. Rickard hit to short, was safe at 1st, and in a moment stole 2d; Barnett knocked a pretty three-bagger to right and "Rick" tallied, evening up the score; King laid down a nifty single between 1st and 2d and was safe at 1st, while Barnett chased home with what proved to be the winning run. At this point the Habit boys "tightened up" and the two more outs required were forthcoming before Hartford could do any more damage.

Sunday afternoon the Hartford "Oil Magnates" journeyed to Taylor Mines and again tried conclusions with the "Miners." Quite a number of "rooters" accompanied the team, expecting to see a classy game, but they were considerably disappointed. The Taylor Mines aggregation put up a fairly good game, but they were outclassed and our boys played rings around them. The Hartford bunch had on their batting clothes and slammed Peters' delivery to all parts of the park. Rickard, the twirler for the visitors, was in good form and pitched his usual classy game. Unfortunately the contest was marred by numerous questionable decisions of Umpire Hob Taylor, Jr., of Beaver Dam. Hartford started the real fun of the game by annexing a couple of counters in the third inning. The Miners came back at them in the next session and chalked up a lone tally. Then in the fifth frame the Oil Magnates got to going good and laced out enough safeties to apparently sew up the game. But the locals kept pegging away and, aided by "rocky" decisions of the umpire, managed to pile up three more scores. Things had been going from bad to worse and in Taylor Mines' half of the eighth came the climax of the dissatisfaction over the official rulings.

With the bases full, Thorpe, the Hartford catcher, threw wild to 2d and the ball was recovered by outfielder Barnett who threw the runner from 3d out at home by a good safe margin, but Umpire Taylor insisted on calling him safe. In view of this decision, the Hartford boys felt themselves justified in refusing to finish the game.

Score.
Innings 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9—R H E
Hartford 0 0 2 0 4 0 0 0—6 16 5
Taylor Mines 0 0 0 1 0 1 2 X—4 9 3

There was a farcical performance of baseball at East End Park Saturday afternoon between the colored teams of Hayti and Irvington. A number of white people braved the heat to witness the contest, but were sorely disappointed by the poor showing made by the locals. For two or three innings it was a very fair game, the score being about even, but the visitors then began to run away with their opponents and the swatfest ended 21 to 2 in favor of Irvington. The same teams played again Sunday afternoon on the Phipps diamond near town and the visitors again won, 13 to 7.

Green's celebrated Nebraska Indian team will play the Hartford boys at East End Park here next Saturday afternoon. They will come here from Central City. The Nebraska Indians are full blooded aboriginals, and they put up a fast game. They will have their match, however, with the Hartford team, whose members are playing league ball this year. It will be a great game, worth going miles to see.

BARNETT'S FERRY.

June 30.—Last Sunday was Old Folks day at Narrows Baptist Church. The morning services were conducted by Rev. Jenkins, of Owensboro, assisted by several local ministers. A splendid dinner was spread at 12 o'clock and in the afternoon a splendid program consisting of songs, addresses, recitations, &c., was rendered. Everyone seemed to enjoy the occasion and it is to be hoped that the "old folks" will live to enjoy many more such days.

Mrs. Lonnie Allen and children, of Irvington, are visiting Mrs. Allen's parents, Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Foreman.

Mr. Herbert Ensor and family, of Williams Mines, are visiting relatives in this vicinity.

Mrs. Frank Lyons and little grandson, Truman, of Reynolds, are visiting friends and relatives in this community.

Mr. T. W. Barrett, who has been sojourning in Texas, Oklahoma and Illinois during the past five months, returned home last week. He will return to Texas soon.

Mr. J. P. Lloyd is visiting relatives in Indiana.

Mr. C. B. B. Felix, of Olaton, is visiting his daughter, Mrs. Sam Davison.

Messrs. Ray and Willis Cobb, of Fordville, spent Saturday night with Messrs. Edgar and Roy Muffett.

An ice cream supper was given at Oak Grove Saturday night. The proceeds will be used for the benefit of the church.
